Charismatic energy abounds at Galerie Jenner, a 1,100 square foot art gallery located just west of Las Olas Boulevard in downtown Fort Lauderdale. The inspiring, crisp and welcoming industrial space is filled with a dazzling array of paintings, photography and sculptures.

Jeremiah is a highly regarded photographer and educator who likes to take chances on undiscovered talent. "I remember my first big break into the gallery scene. I am now in the position to help make that dream come true for other deserving artists." He further explains; "I'm not too concerned with accolades, awards and resumes; if I like your work and it fits within the theme, it's in the exhibition."

Mr. Jenner is also valued for his curatorial prowess at art galleries and corporate venues. The Cornell Museum of American Art and Culture, ArtServe and Starbucks have benefited from his touch.

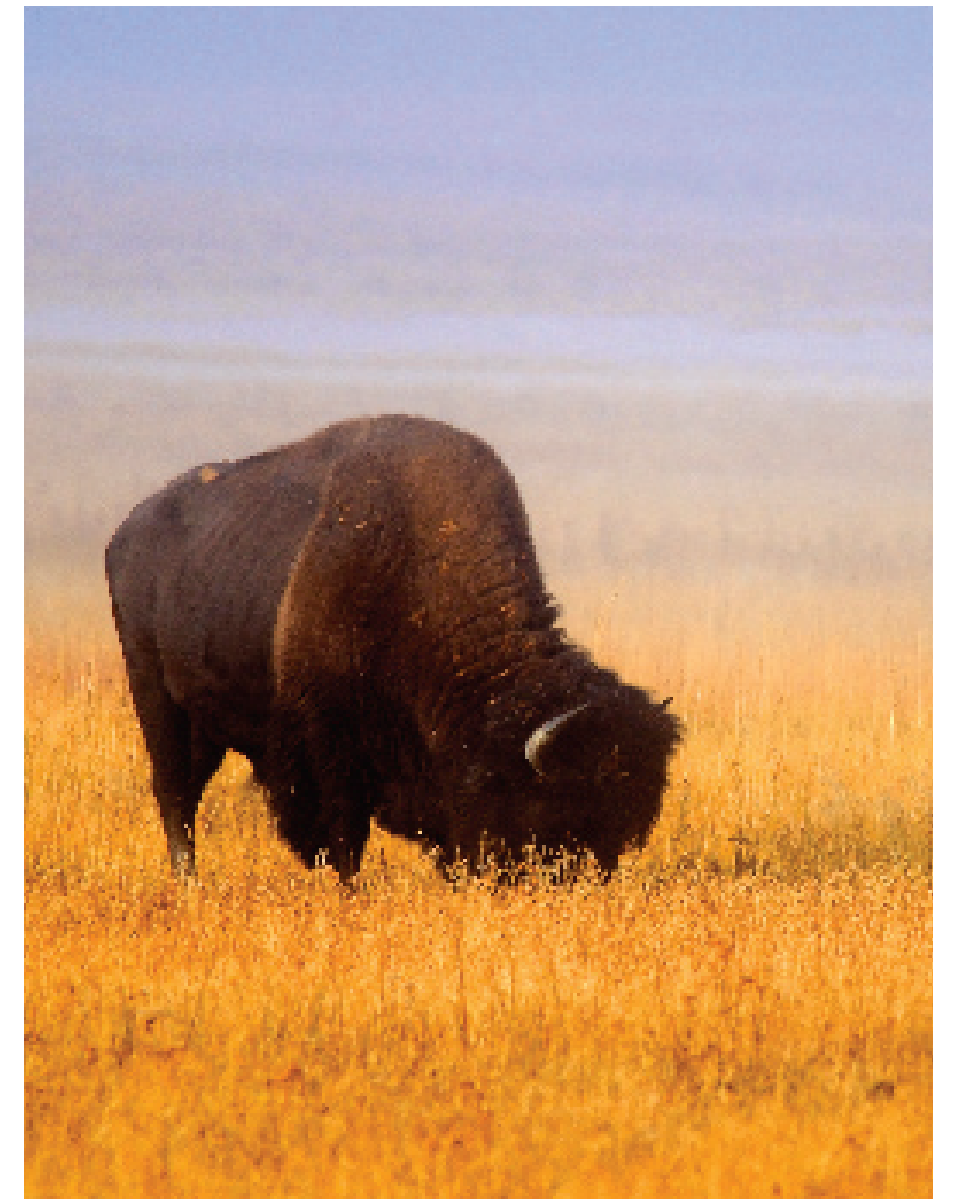

The Galerie has received prestigious accolades including South Florida's "Best Art Gallery 2011" by New Times Magazine.

Galerie Jenner was inevitable with Jeremiah's hard-won business acumen and fierce determination. Mr. Jenner may dream big, but his follow through is fairly spectacular.
