

Go Green | Environmental “green” initiatives have had a strong influence on home furnishings for the past few years and continue to be a top trend. Now, however, the color green also takes center stage in fresh floral, fauna and vegetable prints, in stone colors of emerald and jade, and in bright pops of pistachio and yellow-green.

“Soft Landing” 30-by-20-inch photograph by Jody Leshinsky

Courtesy of Galerie Jenner

Pattern Prevails | Bold florals, fruit and vegetable motifs, masculine stripes, ikat prints and global cultural influences infuse optimism on subdued neutral backgrounds. Tie-dye is even making a comeback, and textural details abound in every element.

Nadia crewel chair from Sam Moore